The Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission Holds Holiday Marketplace Showcasing Trails of History Sites and Museums

Harrisburg - The Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission (PHMC) will hold the sixth annual Holiday Marketplace on Thurs. and Fri., Nov. 17-18, in the atrium of the Commonwealth Keystone Building, 400 North St.

Presented for the benefit of employees working in or near the Capitol Complex as well as area residents, the Holiday Marketplace features booths showcasing Pennsylvania-themed gifts for the holidays from a number of PHMC's historic sites and museums from throughout the state. Products include hand-crafted items such as beeswax candles, holiday decorations, reproductions of vintage toys and games, books, pottery, and maple sugar candy.

This year, Ephrata Cloister, Landis Valley Village and Farm Museum, Pennsbury Manor and Somerset Historical Center—as well as the newly expanded State Museum Store—will be participating. The Pennsylvania Capitol Preservation Committee, Pennsylvania Department of Community and Economic Development, and the state Department of Conservation and Natural Resources will offer items that reflect and support Pennsylvania's heritage and natural beauty. The Keystone Cafeteria will offer seasonal fare.

PSECU is once again the sponsor of the event, which is presented by PHMC's non-profit support organization, the Pennsylvania Heritage Society.

Holiday Marketplace hours are 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.
